AN INTERESTING LETTER

From One of Hazel Green's Young Ladies, Her Travels From This Place to Virginia.

COEBURN, VA., Feb., 6, 1900.
Editor of the "dear old HERALD," —Thinking that a few of my friends would like to know of my whereabouts, I will give them a letter.
On Thursday, Dec., 14, '99, I left my home in Kentucky for a visit to Virginia, my father and little brother accompanied me to Torrent where I boarded the train. I was soon carried far from any place familiar or any one I knew, reaching Winchester I found that the train which was to carry me on farther away was not due until 10:42. While waiting I made the acquaintance of a young lady who knew the town and went with me up Main street. The shop windows in holiday attire were very pretty, and the town was putting on its gala dress for the yule-tide. On returning to the station my companion left for her home and I boarded the train again. A fellow traveler, from Tennessee, who knew the route was very kind in giving me information and assistance in changing cars at Roland at 1:00 a. m. and Corbin at 4:00 a. m. where we made good connection at both places, and at Pineville, a thriving little mining town of Kentucky, he left me. At Middlesborough it was day light enough to see the mountains, and at which place can be seen three states from one point—Kentucky on the west, Virginia on the east and Tennessee on the south. At Pennington Gap, Va., we stopped 20 minutes for breakfast, then on to Norton where we had dinner, changed cars again and at 4:16 p. m. found me at Cedar Bluff, Va., the old dominion, the birth place of my mother and my destination. It was quite a surprise for my grandparents, when they opened the door in answer to my knock; both are advanced in years, and it was pleasant to be with them. Eleven years have passed since my last visit to this place, and to say things had changed would mildly express it.

My once little playmates were now grown up, some married, some gone to a better world, but I soon felt quite at home, and with a good traveling horse at my service, I in company with cousins and acquaintances went over the most familiar grounds of my mother's childhood. Steelsburgh, is a little village which has many hallowed memories dear to my mother for it was there in the old church, she went to school, and but few of her schoolmates are still above the sod, while still a less number are to be found in that vicinity. It was in that same old log house that she joined the church, but "the old meeting house" she knew, is a thing of the past now, and in its place is quite a modern church, also a large school house near by. After a sumptuous supper, some good music and a refreshing sleep, we again started on our journey. The next place to be visited was Pounding Mill, a station on the N. & W. line, another village where mother had attended school in an old log church which has long since been torn down, and now Pounding Mill is quite a place, a church, station, several stores and some beautiful residences. On our way we visited the noted chimney cave, where all kinds of festivities used to be held, from Sunday school celebrations, where the ministers made speeches, to balls and dances where violins were plentiful. Next came the childhood home of mother, and thousands of pleasant memories crowded upon each other as I recounted the old times mother had told me of her childhood and girlhood. It was there she and father were married, and a few years later carried me, a tiny little infant back with them for a visit.

Christmas came and went merrily, calls to pay, church going and visiting to do with so many good things to eat kept me employed. Yet I enjoyed several quiet hours chatting with my grandparents, so time passed; and about the last of January I boarded the train for Coeburn to visit my aunt, Mrs. W. H. John. This is such a country to work and hustle, full of coal mines and coke ovens that I will write them up later.

No Blacker Blot On Our History.

When Mr. Lincoln was assassinated enormous rewards were offered for the arrest of Jefferson Davis, Clement G. Clay, Jacob Thompson and various other distinguished and pure men. Premiums were offered for perjury, for violence, for false accusation, for baseless charges against innocent persons.
A packed court martial convicted an innocent woman, and Mrs. Sur-ratt was legally murdered. Afterward her son was arrested and tried on the same evidence and went free.
There is no blot on our history blacker and more pathetic than the cruel, barbarous and infamous conduct of men in high position and of the great dailies during that period of perjury and violence.

In Kentucky is a repetition of those disgraceful and unfortunate actions. False accusations made against innocent men by the jackals, hyenas and curs of the human race; sensational publications made by unscrupulous and savage slanders; and large rewards to induce perjury and unfounded charges. Such rewards may secure arrests; there has been no trouble to secure indictments, and probably will not be again; and they may secure unjust convictions.
The vast majority of Kentucky earnestly desires that the assassin of Mr. Goebel may be discovered and punished; those who are most active and vociferous in these demands for large rewards do not wish the real assassin to be caught; they are striving to make capital out of this crime and desire to smirch the character and persecute falsely men they know to be innocent. It may produce a carnival of perjury; it will tempt numerous so-called detectives to concoct nefarious schemes to steal these rewards under "the forms of law."

FOUND A GOLD MINE.

'T WAS IN HIS POULTRY YARD.

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound That Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. The Secret of His Success.

People in the neighborhood of Creston, Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with.
When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition and furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Poultry Mixture is the name of it, and it is made by American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.
Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound.
It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it will do, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for a sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It acts directly on the craw and gizzard and is a thoroughly scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture he's behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.
